DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

1. Claims 1, 8, and 12-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Nihei et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,791,596)

The applied reference has a common inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

In reference to claim 1, Nihei discloses in Figure 2 a circuit for generating a pixel clock (PCLK) for use in scanning a laser beam, comprising: a high frequency clock generating circuit (11) which generates a high-frequency clock (VCLK) having a higher frequency than the pixel clock (PCLK); and a control circuit (12, 13, 14) which generates the pixel clock (PCLK) while shifting a phase of the pixel clock (PCLK) by a shift step proportional to a clock cycle of the high-frequency clock in response to phase data (PHASE DATA) indicative of timing and amounts of phase shifts. The same applies to claims 8, 12 (wherein Nihei discloses in Figure 20 the pixel clock generator (120); a laser drive unit (150); a photoconductor (208); and a deflector (204)), and claim 13 (wherein Nihei discloses in Figure 20 the photo-detectors (101, 102) and a dot-position-error detecting controlling unit (110)).

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 2-7 and 9-11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
3. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: Claims 2-7 and 9-11 would be allowable because the closest prior art of record fails to disclose a circuit as shown in Figure 2 wherein the control circuit includes a phase synchronizing signal generating circuit (15) in combination with the rest of the limitations of the base claims and any intervening claims.

Double Patenting

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

Art Unit: 2816

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

5. Claims 1, 8, and 12-13 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claims 1-101 of U. S. Patent No. 6,791,596 since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the patent and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: a high frequency clock generator, a control circuit, a pixel clock generator, a laser drive unit, a photoconductor, a deflector, photo-detectors and a dot-position-error detecting controlling unit.

Furthermore, there is no apparent reason why applicant was prevented from presenting claims corresponding to those of the instant application during prosecution of the application which matured into a patent. See In re Schneller, 397 F.2d 350, 158 USPQ 210 (CCPA 1968). See also MPEP § 804.
